Charleston County Waterparks to open daily starting June 5 and June 19

(CHARLESTON COUNTY) – Charleston County Parks (CCPRC) will soon open its three waterparks – Splash Island in Mount Pleasant, Splash Zone on James Island, and Whirlin' Waters in North Charleston – for daily operations. Splash Zone will be open for daily operations starting June 5 and Splash Island and Whirlin' Waters will be open for daily operations starting June 19. Waterparks are open from 10 a.m. – 6 p.m.

Whirlin' Waters Adventure Waterpark is located at North Charleston Wannamaker County Park and is the largest of the three waterparks owned by CCPRC. Whirlin' Waters features unique activities for all ages with attractions including the 60-foot-tall multi-person slide The Washout, the Big Splash Tree House, Rollin' River lazy river, Big Kahuna wave pool, Tubular Twister slides, the Rip Tide Run mat racer slide and the Otter Bay kiddie area.

Splash Zone, located in James Island County Park, offers safe family fun for all ages. The waterpark has two 200-foot-long slides, a large leisure pool, a 500-foot-long lazy river, and a family play complex called The Rainforest.

Splash Island at Mount Pleasant Palmetto Islands County Park provides hours of fun for toddlers to pre-teenage children. Attractions include a 200-foot-long body flume, activity pool, a 16-foot-long otter slide, The Cyclone swirling water ride, and sprays, geysers, waterfalls and more.

The waterparks also offer a full range of amenities including concessions, lockers for securing items, lounge chairs, showers and restrooms. Each waterpark is staffed with certified lifeguards. Park admission fees vary. Splash Passes offer unlimited waterpark access all season, and are available for sale now at CharlestonCountyParks.com.

All three waterparks opened for weekends only starting May 15. CCPRC's West County Aquatic Center in Hollywood opened for daily operations starting May 31.
